

THE ELLENSBURG CAPITAL

Thursday, March 7, 1912

Considerable interest centered in the school election on Saturday. The vote stood 314 for Harry W. HALE to 128 for Samuel KREIDEL, the only other candidate. A large number of the votes were cast by women.

DEATH BY THE PISTOL

A call from the COBLE lodging house at midnight on Sunday told the officers that Mrs. Hattie PEIGHT, formerly Hattie COBLE, had been shot, presumably by her own hand. The officers found her unconscious from a bullet wound in the head. Jeff JONES, who lived at the house and who called the officers told them she had shot herself. She received emergency attention and the following day was taken to Mrs. WRIGHT's hospital. Monday evening an operation was performed, from which she rallied somewhat, but she died at midnight Tuesday. A note was found, supposedly written by the woman, in which she spoke of trouble with JONES; it indicated that she was very unhappy and melancholy, and showed that she was contemplating the taking of her own life. JONES was taken in hand by the sheriff and detained for a day in the county jail, being released next day. The woman was a widow, her husband having been found dead in the bay at Seattle in 1910. She has since been conducting the lodging house built by her father. The tragedy is supposed to have been directly due to trouble between her and the man JONES. The inquest, being held today may throw additional light on the tragedy. The victim was about 24 years old, a daughter of Dan COBLE, an old citizen, who is now in California. She was raised in this city and was well known.
